

Online round table “FROM COVID-19 TOWARDS NEW APPROACHES BETWEEN HUMANS AND NATURE”

June 26th, 2020 10:00–13:00

Photo: Julian pre-Alps Natural Park (1,5), Biotechnical Center of Naklo (2), University of Udine (3), Tricorn National Park (4)

10:00–10:05
INTRODUCTION

10:05–10:20
STEFANO FILACORDA
University of Udine, Italy

COVID and new possible approaches in the relationship with nature (IT)

10:20–10:35
PETER RAWCLIFFE

Natural Scottish Heritage; Europarc
Federation Council and Chair of its Health And Protected
Areas Commission
Health and Protected Areas (EN)

10:35–10:50
MARCELLO FRANCHINI
University of Udine, Italy

Wildlife and humans: approaches aimed to a correct interaction (IT)

10:50–11:05
ANTONELLA STRAVISI
University of Udine, Italy

Natura 2000 and Natural Areas as a model for zero km use and outdoor teaching (IT)

11:05–11:20

LORENZO FRANGINI
University of Udine, Italy

The information revolution: smartphones and social media at the service of nature (IT)

11:20–11:35

MARCO BERTOLDI
Comprehensive Institute of Pagnacco, Italy
Citizens of tomorrow as custodians of their territory (IT)

11:35–11:50

MOJCA LOGAR, Professor of History and Geography,
Biotechnical Center of Naklo, Slovenia
Learning outdoor (EN)

11:50–12:05

MONIKA KOS
Biotechnical Center of Naklo, Slovenia
Alpine School within the NAT2CARE project (EN)

12:05–13:00

Questions and Discussion, Moderator:
STEFANO SANTI
Julian pre-Alps Natural Park

There will be the possibility to ask questions via chat.

The whole event will be held in Italian; three presentations are going to be in English (EN, with Italian subtitles)

REGISTRATION REQUIRED BEFORE 14.00 OF THURSDAY 25th JUNE.

For registration and information: silvia.segatti@parcoprealpigiulie.it

All members will receive a link via e-mail to connect to the round table.